

Who Grows Your Food?

Cane Creek Valley Farm • Fletcher, NC

Amanda Sizemore farms Cane Creek Valley Farm with her husband, Jeremy, and her parents, Tony and Celia Nesbitt. At 29, she is the eldest of their 9 children. Amanda wants to see the land her great grandfather bought continue to be farmed. When she was young there were 20 dairy farms in the valley, and now there are 3. The family is enjoying growing organically and selling fresh vegetables to the community they are deeply rooted in. They are tired these days, but full of energy when they talk about the future. Thanks to the demand for high quality, local food they will be able to keep farming.
