

Who Grows Your Food?

Madison Farms • Madison County, NC

Madison County has been called “The Jewel of the Blue Ridge.” For generations, farmers have grown tobacco in these rugged and beautiful mountains. These days, the farmers of Madison County are growing fresh fruits and vegetables and selling them to local colleges, hospitals, chefs, and elementary schools. They are excited that their community has made a commitment to fresh, local vegetables and to supporting the farmers who care for the health of the land, and the people of Madison County.
