

Tips for Selling to: Restaurants

NCAT Marketing Tip Sheet Series

Restaurants are businesses that provide full meals and drinks, and try to offer a unique atmosphere and menu for customers. Some restaurants, especially locally owned ones, now want to feature dishes using local produce. This presents a good marketing opportunity for farmers to sell to them directly.

For this market you can expect:

- Low-to-medium volume of product
- Higher prices per unit

Advantages

★ key point

- Chefs value fresh, high-quality products.

Considerations

- Expect small order size and frequent delivery.
- Chefs value top quality produce.
- It's important to provide the buyer with a weekly availability list.
- Chefs may require a consistent supply of particular items.

Tips

- ★ Be consistent. Chefs expect a product will be delivered if they put it on the menu.
- Build a relationship with the entire staff. Chefs move frequently.
- ★ Chefs are on a tight schedule and generally require deliveries when they're not busy, such as before 10 a.m. or between 2 and 5 p.m.
- Introduce new products by dropping off free samples with your regular deliveries.
- ★ Fax or email a list of available products for the chef to order from.
- Use the chefs as your best source of market information. They may know what the next big thing is before you do.
- Know how the chef is using your product and be prepared to talk about other ways to use it.
- In the autumn, ask the chefs what products they want you to grow next season.
- ★ Ask about each restaurant's needs, including pack, size, variety, post-harvest preferences, new items, and how they would like to place orders (by fax, phone text message, or email).

Key Questions to Ask Yourself

- ★ How far in advance do the chefs need to see an accurate schedule of product availability in order to allow them to plan their menus?
 - What restaurants are the best fit for my product profile? Ethnic restaurants, specialty bakeries, high-end gourmet restaurants?
 - What production, handling, storage, and delivery methods will I use to ensure the freshest and highest quality products to high-end chefs? Highlight these in outreach to chefs.
 - How frequently and quickly am I able to deliver to restaurants? What are the chef's expectations about this?
- ★ How do the restaurants want to communicate with me? Cell phone, email, text message, fax?
